Legend

As many other states, places or towns are recognizable for its historical events, famous individuals, fairy tales or stories, Ulcinj and people from Ulcinj are famous for various and especially pirate ones. Through the history, Ulcinj has been for many centuries a pirate nest. The town starting from the XIV century has began to be inhabited by the pirates from Malta, Tunis, and Algeria. The coastal part, from the present Ulcinj all the way to Kotor, was the pirate nest. The pirates, especially during the XVII and XVIII century, have represented fear on the sea. Pirate gangs have become so powerful that they attacked various trading ships that sailed under various ensigns; they have robbed them and quickly sailed in their bulwarks, which they made along the entire Ulcinj Coast.

The greatest damage of the dangerous attacks of pirate commanders among whom the most famous were brothers Karamindzoja, Lika Ceni, Ali hodza and others, suffered the Venetian fleet. Beside the invasions and robberies on trading ships, pirates from Ulcinj were famous by the trading of black slaves. Because of that fact a great number of inhabitants in Ulcinj were black people from different African countries. Among old people from Ulcinj even today it is mentioned how until 1878 in Ulcinj 100 black people lived, as well as the fact that among the slaves in the dungeons a famous writer Servantes dwelled, by whom one of the Ulcinj squares is named Slave square. Still, the most famous and the most gladly retold story among people from Ulcinj even today is the legend of famous pirate Liko Cena. Liko Cena a man from Ulcinj was the most famous pirate chief. Everyday with his pirate army he attacked different trading ships, and sometimes even the entire fleets. One time Liko Cena with his company sank a ship on which there were pilgrims who traveled to a pilgrimage in Mecca..

However, the time went by and the sultan could not find Lambro. The only thing that at that moment was left to him to do was to send a message to Liko Cena in which he is saying that he'll forgive him everything if he manages to destroy Lambro. Sultan soon did that, and Liko Cena with pleasure accepted the call, binding himself in front of the sultan that he'll "either catch Lambro or die". After some time, there comes a duel in which Liko Cena manages to kill Lambro. For the favor he has done and for the loyalty, Turkish sultan spares Liko Cena's life, by giving him the title of the captain. Famous men from Ulcinj, descendants of Liko Cena, were also distinguished captains.

It was a very tragic event, which echoed even past Ulcinj. Namely, when the Turkish sultan heard of the great accident, he ordered that Liko Cena must be found and imprisoned. Sultan also proclaimed that he'd richly award the one who catches or kills Liko Cena. But, exactly then on the sea appeared another, also very dangerous pirate – Lambro or Aralampija as he was otherwise called. Originally from Greece, Lambro knew the sea very well, and he was thought to be a skilful pirate. Very dangerous and fearless, Lambro quickly became a real "sea monster" for many trading ships and naval fleets. The news of Lambro's misdeeds quickly got to the Turkish sultan. As the damages which Lambro's company committed were immense, and sultan soon proclaimed that he will give a rich reward to the one who catches or kills Lambro.

Culture

Ulcinj is one of the oldest towns on the Adriatic Coast which for 25 years has been withstood the ravages of time. Through the centuries of the stored variety of cultures and civilizations merged in a compound. Ulcinj is like a little paradise on earth, a timelessly carved in the centuries of bloody battles, defiance, pride and love of all of those who have visited this place at least once in their life. The earliest tracks lead us to prehistoric time when Ulcinj belonged to Illyrians, a people of the Indo-European origin.

The town, whose walls were often ruined in wars, was also at same speed renewed by all of those who because of the extreme beauty of this ancient town found their piece in it, building for themselves fortresses and residences. The ancient Colchinium or Olcinijum, as Ulcinj was called in the period of Greek and Roman Empire, is mentioned in the written records of Plinije Older in his work "Naturalis Historiae" and in his works Tit Livije also mentions Ulcinj. In the earliest period from the cultural and historical development of Ulcinj the name of the Byzantium Emperor Justinijan is mentioned. He renewed and built fortresses in Ulcinj, and after the era of his reign, after the year 1100, the same things were done by famous rulers which ruled one part of the former Montenegro and the Coast like: Nemanjici, Balsici, Venetians, and Turks.

Another Jelena, a great ruler and the widow of the Serbian Emperor Dusan, loved to stay in Ulcinj. Jelena for several years has even reigned over Ulcinj. Also in that town, in which he used to have a throne, famous ruler Djuradj Stratimirovic Balsic (1358 – 1403) is buried. In the time of the ruling era of families Nemanjic and Balsic, Ulcinj was famous for its mint factories of bronze and silver money. In the quick onset on their fast horses in 1242 a Mongolian crowd from the central Asian areas came under the very walls of Ulcinj. As the attack of the Mongolians on the Old town of Ulcinj was unsuccessful, Mongolian government has attacked the neighboring Svac. Historically and culturally important fact is that the famous Svac was ruined by the Mongolians and killed all of their inhabitants. The town Svac, otherwise bishopric town, had 365 churches, as many churches as there are days in a year, so in the XIII century Queen Jelena Balsic renewed it. The Italian writers Djustinijani (1533) and Bici (1610) made written records of that event. The important fact for the cultural development of Ulcinj is that after the naval battle at Lapant (1571) in the Mediterranean Sea, in Ulcinj a famous Spanish writer Miguel de Servantes Savedra, who later wrote a world famous novel "Don Quixote" was imprisoned.

In the year 1183 Ulcinj becomes the most famous naval center in the Adriatic Sea, and somewhere about the same time a famous tower of Balsici was built. Even though Ulcinj was never a capital of the Montenegrin rulers, the historical evidence leads us to conclusions that Ulcinj with the surroundings was a favorite destination of the rulers of Zeta, who used that town as some kind of a residence. In the year 1252 in Ulcinj the son of the King of Zeta Vukan, Djordjije who had a title "Princeps Diocliae" reigns. In the year 1281 in Ulcinj its resort found also the sister of the Queen Jelena Balsic, Marija, else French, a widow of the well-known French Duke Anselm se Chaurusa. She has a title "Domina Ulcini". Marija's tomb was located in front of the altar of the Holy mother of God's church or Marko's church in Ulcinj. Also, the Queen Jelena, historically more famous as the widow of Uros I Nemanjic, with her sister Marija often used to stay in Ulcinj. The confirmation of their linkage with that town was a Franciscan convent, which the sisters built together in the year 1278.

It is supposed that the famous Servantes to his protagonist Don Quixote, in the same named novel, gave a lover named Dilcinee, a girl whose origin is from Ulcinj and who carried the name of the former name of Ulcinj- Cita de Dolcino, with whom Servanets was in lived with. Servants has spent almost 5 years in Ulcinj, and it is thought that together with the other slaves he was sold on a place which for them is called Slave square or Servantes's square and it is located in the Old town. The staying of the famous Spanish writer in Ulcinj is interesting also because of the fact that the pirates who bought him, thought that Servatnes comes from a noble family, so for his ransom they have asked for much more money, so it took his family 5 years to collect that sum of money. Ulcinj, in fact Its Old town has in the past welcomed a famous reformer Sabati Cevi (1626 – 1676) who stayed in the well-known edifice – tower of Balsici. Cevi is known in history as a promoter of Talmudo (The Holy Jewish Book). To Cevi, according to the sources, Ulcinj was a last resort because around the year 1676 after converting himself to Islam, living as an exile, Cevi died in Ulcinj as Mehmed – effendi. Today the preserved holy burial chamber of Mehmed – effendi, is located in the yard of the family Manic, and it represents an eternal house of one of the greatest rebels of the XVII century. His tomb is preserved as sanctity. Cevi continued to live after death in the literary works.

Recreation

It is enough just to arrive in Ulcinj and to already think how only one look on this ancient town is enough a recreation for an entire hot summer day. But when you get into sightseeing of the town and its suburb, you realize that it is necessary to spend several days in Ulcinj in order to fully meet it and enjoy in its Old town and its beaches, ethno taverns, stores or markets. If you choose Ulcinj exclusively for tourist reasons, you will find it hard to resist the spirit of Orient, and you won't feel like leaving your favorite beach, hotel where you're staying or the terrace of the private apartment from which you can observe the town... Maybe right at the moment when you are having some nice conversation with your loved one, or drink an exquisite Turkish coffee which is masterfully prepared by housewives in copper coffee pots and pour into little demitasse, your look starts wandering and you decide to recreate yourself walking through the Old Ulcinj town or through a nearby old Ulcinj nucleus. As the majority of tourists, usually, spend their vacation on the beaches swimming and sunbathing, such activities in Ulcinj are not just a recommendation but also an irresistible call.

The beaches of Ulcinj are simply lurking you... petty and healing sand which pleasantly attaches to your wet body, warm sea, parasols made of reed or of coll, a pleasant breeze which cools the summer hotness and a mandatory colorful summer cocktail which you are sipping, while observing the surrounding under your dark sun glasses, all of this creates a picture which irresistibly reminds on beaches of Hawaii, Caribbean, Maldivian, Jamaica... Whether you're spending your day in the city arranged bathing beaches, in nudist beaches, in the naturalistic complex Ada Bojana or in numerous hidden coves, rocks, and crags... in Ulcinj you will recreate yourself in the best possible way. After several days that you have been spending in a constant rhythm: resting on the beach, dining in a restaurant, walking through the town and you become surfeited by that, set yourself off with some wooden barge, paddleboat or oar boat to some new beach, island, more precisely to a cape named "Old Ulcinj" and with the diving gear you can try to meet the underwater world of Ulcinj and its surrounding. There used to be a belief that on the rock of that ridge, the remains of the Old Ulcinj or "Dolcingo Vecchio" are placed. However, with later archeological discoveries it was established that on the above mentioned rock in the classical era there used to be a little signal station (specula) and that in the Middle century there used to be a fortress, which served as an observation tower. Maybe these records are enough to convince you to visit this little ridge, and for a short time be a researcher. Why not try it? Island Old Ulcinj is loyally expecting you! However if you're a skilled diver, Ulcinj beaches and coves are the right place for you. Use the opportunity of renting a barge or a boat and with the help of county fisherman or professional diver set off to the just 5 km distant Cove Valdanos. There you can spend entire day observing the sea bottom, exploring underwater world or seeking for the remains of the shipwrecks or sank loads. You don't have to worry too much from the details, because several diving clubs from Ulcinj offer you a possibility of both renting a completely professional gear and training for those who wish to become divers. If after diving in the waters of Ulcinj aquarium your wishes for the adventures and recreation even bigger, than the best thing to do is to ask around about the possibilities of sports or underwater fishing or to simply, in the quest for new events you distant yourself from the center of town for one or several days. The most beautiful and the most attractive destination is Ada Bojana. The informed ones say, that on Ada you will find peace, regain energy and will, throw out negative thoughts, meet and unite with the intact nature, enjoying in trying out freshly taken out sea products, again fall in love with the world around you, or simply on Ada you will once again learn how to live. If you don't see life as a strict rule of conduct or some kind of a stigma, then Ada is the right solution. The funs of horse riding can on Ada Bojana, a nudist island that is called paradise on earth, rent riding horses and in the walk beside the sea in the sunset experience memorable moments. On Ada you can also sail, surpass big waves with great speed and rapidity, swim undisturbed and without the danger that you might have went to deep or simply roll yourself in the sea mud which is made by sea waves and sand a lot like flour. Also, on Ada you can ride with paraglide, kite and especially windsurf...

On Ada Bojana there is a windsurf school which owns the newest, top-notch gear. The potentials of Ada Bojana satisfy both amateurs and the high criteria of the professionals. The flat line of the lake water on which first steps of this sport are learned is suitable for the beginners. After only 7 days of training at the professional trainers allows you enjoyment in the waves, and after a one-month training the winds in the open sea are available. The salable winds that blow on the Ada beaches, make excellent waves, which allow high quality windsurf. If you like to recreate in a less dynamic way, a real suggestion is a ride with your own car or rent – car vehicle to Sasko Lake. By renting a wooden barge or a canoe, you can set yourself of through the dense shrubbery, reed or willow trunks along the Lake, whose surface is 364 ha. Even though bird watching is still in infancy in Montenegro, with binoculars you can observe 260 kinds of birds. Also, you can it can appear to you that the “Oriental tide” which leads you to little alleys, on city causeways or squares is lurking you, so in wandering from the Old town to the Old Ulcinj you can think that one day lasts for eternity, and your getting to know with this town can seem longer than a century. On the other side Ulcinj attracts you with its exclusivity with – a great natural gift – a naturalistic island Ada Bojana something that very few countries have. As soon as you decide that your vacation in Ulcinj will not just be swimming and sunbathing, you have to make sure that in this town you will surrender to all possible pleasures. Your enthusiasm with the place where you are staying starts turning into a true emotion, which will hardly be just an ordinary experience. We suggest that you experience Ulcinj truly, to be free and that your thoughts wander, to dream while watching the sea, to surrender to rest to the utmost limits. Put your towel on your shoulder and perpetuate the birds either with a photo or a video camera. On River Bojana, which is nearby, you can try yourself in hunting or fishing; during the winter by hunting woodcocks and during the summer fishing "lica". Kind hosts will always gladly take you with their boat to hunt leading you in with the little secrets of hunting. If you're a hunter, and underwater fisherman or fisherman etc. on River Bojana, and on Porto Milena you can see numerous “calimeras”. “Calimeras” are ancient houses with attractive devices for a specific way of hunting fish, which has effectively kept until nowadays in this area. If you're not a fisherman, and you like fish, then in the mouth of the River Bojana you have a wide choice of fish restaurants on water in which you can taste various sea specialties, fishes, crabs, shells... If you wish for recreation on the sea, the best choice is the excursion with a taxi boat from Ulcinj to some of the neighboring towns like: Bar, Petrovac, Budva, Kotor, and Herceg Nov walk slowly to the Big or Small beach, to some cove or cape or simply wander until you find a place, which at that moment will be the right choice for you. When you completely surrender to peace, sea and quietude, or maybe a little bit tired from the mass of the swimmers on the beaches, you set yourself towards your hotel room, ask around at numerous Ulcinj taxi or van transporters about tourist excursions which are everyday organized, and then decide where to go tomorrow. Among interesting tourist tours a visit of the Montenegrin monasteries both on the coast and in the interior should be pointed out. You can spend a very pleasant day if you decide to visit Skadar Lake or River Crnojevic. For the tourists very interesting are also not so far trips to the monuments of the culturally – historic development of Montenegro and the ancient capital Cetinje, or a visit to a famous village Njegusi, a place of birth of to Europe well known poet and the ruler of Montenegro Petar II Petrovic Njegos. In the recent years very popular is also a tour, which includes rafting on River Tara. Such tours are directly scheduled or paid at the owners of the van taxi owners. Also, there is a possibility of the organized bus transport, which includes excursions to the above-mentioned destinations along with the lunch and refreshment pauses. The mentioned trips, one day trips or trips that last for several days, to touristy attractive areas of Montenegro are organized by numerous tourist agencies from Ulcinj, so about the details you can get best information by asking the owner of the agency or going in person to their offices. Also, the necessary data of where to go or what to see in Montenegro you can get in the Tourist organization in Ulcinj. Because of the closeness of the Albanian border, there are numerous agencies, which from Ulcinj take travelers, by bus, to Albanian town like: Tirana or ancient Skadar. The trip to Albania can be extremely interesting and it is very frequent in the recent years. If you decide to go on a completely opposite side, you have a possibility to visit Dubrovnik on a day. Also, you can use rent – a – car transport to Bar, where from the harbor of Bar you can go by ferry to the Italian towns Bari or Ancona.
